

How Many Acres to Oats and Rye?

It is time to decide how many acres to plant to oats and rye this fall. It is time to select the land and begin putting it in shape for planting. It is time to order the seed. We can't boast of a self-sustaining system of farming as long as the South fails to raise as much corn, oats or hay as it uses and sends its money to other sections to buy these things in great quantities. A good crop of oats and rye on your farm this fall will help cut down purchases of all these products.

Oats—this crop can be sown from September 1 to November 15. In the latitude of south Georgia, early October seedings have given the best yields. Fulgham oats or Red Rustproof with kindred varieties as Apple, have proved very satisfactory. Flow or diek the land four to six inches deep, pulverize it with a harrow, if necessary use drag or roller. Treat seed with formalin to prevent smut, and plant from two to three bushels to the acre. Plant the seed in open furrows or trenches to prevent winter killing.

Plant oats on good land. They do well after an early crop of corn and cowpeas, or following peanuts. From 200 to 300 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre will increase the yield and pay a profit. When vetch is combined with oats at the rate of two bushels of oats and a half a bushel of vetch they furnish winter grazing, can be cut for hay in the spring and improve the land.

Rye—Rye alone or rye with crimson clover goes a long way toward making a winter pasture. Sow early, in September if possible, to get a good growth before cold weather. Broadcast rye or drill it in the cotton fields after the first picking, or plant on fields prepared for oats. From one and a half to two bushels per acre should be sown when it is grown for grazing. Abuzzi has proved one of the best varieties for this purpose.

Because rye will grow on poor land, do not impose on it. It responds well to fertilizer and the better the land the bigger the crop.

After helping feed the stock during the winter, rye can be turned under in the spring to feed the soil—The Progressive Farmer.

Operation of Dog Law

Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 1920 session of the Legislature, being much easier of interpretation than the original Act.

Figures for 1919 show that taxes amounting to $260,039.93 were paid on approximately 176,000 dogs. From this amount a total of $20,021.81 was paid out by boards of supervisors for sheep killed by dogs, and $2,083.30 for fowl destroyed by dogs. After the payment of all expenses incident to the law, including fees to wardens, commissioners of the revenue and other officials, a total of $164,938.53 was available for roads and schools.

For the year prior to the enactment of the law, the tax on dogs totalling only $71,000.00. Incomplete statistics indicate that this tax for 1920 will total more than $300,000.00. Statistics available at this time indicate that the damage done by dogs this year to sheep will exceed the figures of 1919.

One of the heaviest sufferers from roaming dogs reported to the Department this year is T. C. Commins, member of the House of Delegates from King William county. Dogs recently killed 22 Hampshire ewes for Mr. Commins. Mr. Commins has since shipped the balance of his flock to commission houses, and retired from the business of raising sheep.

Buckingham

Mr. W. M. G. Ranson while riding on a wagon on the road leading from his home to Farmville fell violently to the ground when the team became frightened at a passing automobile. He was taken to Farmville in a car, but only lived a short time after reaching there. Mr. Ranson was a man of intelligence; he was well educated and for a long time he was valued as a member of the New State Presbyterian church, where he led in the singing.

So sad was the death of that good man and useful citizen, Stuart Gillispie, he died of acute indigestion. Mr. Gillispie lived at the old home place with his two sisters and was never married.

Wayat, Pendleton was allowed bail in the sum of $3000, which was furnished by several prominent citizens. Hon. H. D. Flood delivered an address here on the opening day of our circuit court that was instructive indeed, and men of intelligence sat still and

Statement of the financial condition of The Bank of Appomattox, located at Appomattox, State of Virginia, at the close of business Sept. 8, 1920, made to the State Corporation Commission.

ASSETS	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts, including redemptions, except those shown in b and c..... $256,833.63	Capital stock paid in..... $20,000.00
Overdrafts, secured..... 409.21	Surplus fund..... 20,000.00
Real estate owned..... 29,800.00	Undivided profits, less taxes paid..... 2,449.29
Loans on hand..... 2,759.67	Individual deposits, subject to check..... 142,756.15
Loans on hand..... 1,560.83	Time certificates of deposit..... 1,099.41
Loans on hand..... 6,235.00	Loans on hand..... 36,200.00
Loans on hand..... 266.91	Loans on hand..... 1,130.19
Loans on hand..... 219.80	Loans on hand..... 252.34
Loans on hand..... 389,994.07	Loans on hand..... 389,994.07

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

STATE OF VIRGINIA, COUNTY OF APPOMATTOX. Subscribed and sworn to before me by R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors, My commission expires February 1, 1921.

Correct—Attest: R. P. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, J. B. HICKS, Directors.

Operation of Dog Law. Interesting statistics relative to the operation of the state dog law have been compiled and given out for publication by the Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, which is charged with the enforcement of the statute, thru its game wardens.

Enforcement of the law this year began on July 1, under an opinion rendered by Attorney General Saunders. Since that date, wardens have obtained 3,086 convictions for violations of the Act, with the fines imposed totalling $15,990.00, while a total of 2,017 dogs on which the tax had not been paid have been destroyed. The figures show an increase in the number of convictions and dogs killed over the corresponding period last year.

It appears that the law is being more rigidly enforced this year, the statute, as amended by the 19